

Daughter Father Canoe Coming of age in the sub-arctic and other stories of Snowdrift River and Nonacho Lake

Rob Kesselring deftly mingles the story of his daughters coming of age canoe trip in the wilderness of the Canadian Northwest Territories with his own life experiences in the region. The result is a story that will have you alternately rolling with laughter, clinging to the edge of your seat, and seeking out your own children to hold in your arms. Robs down to earth writing style lends itself perfectly to this joyful narrative. By the end of the book you will feel like youve shared in their incredible bonding experience. Enjoy!
