

Heritage Recipes From Harris and Rylott: Potato Bread

Judith Harris has been making breads since her Grandmother Adah Harris taught her, sometime before the age of eleven. She learned techniques that her grandmother learned, the ones that were used by people of her generation (born in 1890). Everything was done by hand. The recipe is updated here with more modern techniques, but please, no bread machines. The recipe was handed down through her Grandmother Laura Rylott and is from early in the 20th century, about 1902. Do enjoy the adventure as you create this wonderful bread for your family and friends. Mom! I think this is the best bread you have ever made, a quote from her son. That is saying something since he has been eating her breads all of his life! This recipe is for potato bread and dates back to 1902. It was handed down from generation to generation in the family and is now published for the delight of those who choose to make this wonderful bread.
